

"When people support a cause, they are proving that their lives are guided by the principles of commitment to the wellbeing of others"

Ramon Madaula, actor

Without the participation of citizens, it is nearly impossible for non-profit organizations to survive. Today more than ever, citizen participation guarantees that foundations and associations of these characteristics will achieve the goals for which they created.

Dionis Torres Segura decided to create the Olga Torres Private Foundation for two main reasons: the helplessness he felt over his daughter Olga's terminal illness, and the resulting wish to do as much as he could for the future of other people who, like Olga, were afflicted by any condition of this kind. The FOT's objectives are to promote high level scientific and technological research within the framework of universities, research centers or specialised institutes, by means of the direct funding of specific research projects and cancer treatments related with immunomediated diseases, and to raise social awareness in order to prevent these diseases as much as possible.
